

Specification of certain applications of Statistics Sweden's revisions policy in the Savings Barometer (FM0105)

The savings barometer is published one month before the financial accounts and is always updated with the most recent values published in the financial accounts (FM0103). Where revisions to the savings barometer are necessary, in addition to the financial accounts values update, values can be revised as far back as Quarter 1 of year (t-2). Major revisions, such as those related to methods and definitions, are first published in the financial accounts. Revisions in connection with the publication of the savings barometer are more straightforward and often consist of current, routine revisions, for example regarding the availability and integration of definitive primary statistics. More information on these revisions are available in the accompanying statistical news.

Errors in previous calculations

Errors in previous calculations are handled in accordance with Statistics Sweden's routines for error management.

Other sources of revisions

Should revision needs arise beyond what is described above, revision information is included in the relevant statistical news. Increased revision needs can be a matter of, for example, minor corrections over an extended time period in the time series.
