

In Other Journals

SURVEY METHODOLOGY

A Journal of Statistics Canada
Volume 18, Number 1, June 1992

CONTENTS

|                                                                                                                                                         |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| In This Issue.....                                                                                                                                      | 1   |
| Census Undercount Measurement Methods and Issues                                                                                                 |     |
| D.A. FREEDMAN and W.C. NAVIDI                                                                                                                           |     |
| Should We Have Adjusted the U.S. Census of 1980?.....                                                                                                   | 3   |
| Comment: S.E. FIENBERG.....                                                                                                                             | 25  |
| I.P. FELLEGI.....                                                                                                                                       | 29  |
| N. CRESSIE.....                                                                                                                                         | 32  |
| A.L. SCHIRM and S.H. PRESTON.....                                                                                                                       | 35  |
| J.A. HARTIGAN.....                                                                                                                                      | 44  |
| T.P. SPEED.....                                                                                                                                         | 51  |
| E.P. ERICKSEN and J.B. KADANE.....                                                                                                                      | 52  |
| Response from the Authors.....                                                                                                                          | 59  |
| N. CRESSIE                                                                                                                                              |     |
| REML Estimation in Empirical Bayes Smoothing of Census Undercount.....                                                                                  | 75  |
| G.S. DATTA, M. GHOSH, E.T. HUANG, C.T. ISAKI, L.K. SCHULTZand J.H. TSAY                                                                             |     |
| Hierarchical and Empirical Bayes Methods for Adjustment of Census Undercount:The 1988 Missouri Dress Rehearsal Data.....                            | 95  |
| D. ROYCE                                                                                                                                                |     |
| A Comparison of Some Estimators of a Set of Population Totals.....                                                                                      | 109 |
| L. SWAIN, J.D. DREW, B. LAFRANCE and K. LANCE                                                                                                           |     |
| The Creation of a Residential Address Register for Coverage Improvement in the 1991Canadian Census.....                                             | 127 |
| S.E. FIENBERG                                                                                                                                           |     |
| Bibliography on Capture-Recapture Modelling With Application to Census UndercountAdjustment.....                                                    | 143 |
| <hr/>                                                                                                                                                   |     |
| L.K. ROE, J.F. CARLSON and D.A. SWANSON                                                                                                                 |     |
| A Variation of the Housing Unit Method for Estimating the Population of Small, RuralAreas: A Case Study of the Local Expert Procedure.....          | 155 |
| Z. XIA, P.S. LEVY, E.S.H. YU, Z. WANG and M. ZHANG                                                                                                      |     |
| Single Stage Cluster Sampling in Prevalence-Incidence Surveys: Some Issues Suggestedby the Shanghai Survey of Alzheimer's Disease and Dementia..... | 165 |